SYMPTOMS: Shamanism and Quantum Experience

September 5-8, 2005, on the Oregon Coast

This year, the clinic's special focus will be on exploring our symptoms using concepts from parallel worlds theory and the vector aspects of symptoms. These concepts bring together the wisdom of ancient shamanic traditions and modern physics for practical application in symptom work. Through exploring our body symptoms and illnesses from these viewpoints, we can potentially discover aspects of our deeper selves that we have forgotten, and find their meanings in relation to community life, an essential facet of our experience that is often overlooked.

THE LAVA ROCK CLINIC

You are invited to join us at the Lava Rock Clinic. At this special seminar we will be using our experiences of symptoms and life-threatening illness, including fears, fantasies and pain, as windows towards enlightenment. Process Work applied to body symptoms has yielded rich experiences, deep insights and new energy for participants. Many find human connectedness and community, instead of the isolation that so often accompanies experiences that we believe cannot be shared. The facilitation will rotate: Amy and Arny will work the first two days of the seminar, then Max will work the second two days.

Process Work with Body Symptoms and Disease is based on the idea that there is a flow of life and wisdom behind illness that can be unfolded by learning to follow body experiences. Symptoms are the direct expression of the dreaming body. During demonstrations and practice sessions, we shall show how to work with symptoms in a holistic way, unraveling their meaning in a person's life. People often access altered states of consciousness. (Deeper dimensions to these states can also be found in comatose states, and of course, in near death experiences.) When unfolding an individual dreaming process, relationship and group process sometimes follow. This leads to the sense that life is richer, more worthwhile, and sometimes to relief and/or healing.
